you don't know the daddy i hold dear in my chest you think you're most favored but he likes me best get out of my sandbox

'cause i was here first you may hear what he says but i heard him first

daddy says
don't eat this on sunday
daddy says
don't eat that on friday
daddy says
he sees things my way

daddy sends tidings of much better days daddy brings victory
if i send you away

we build daddy castles bury treasures in sands we make daddy smile
when we gobble your lands

daddy says
don't like what you eat
daddy says
don't like how you dress
daddy says
he always liked me best my daddy's stronger than your daddy my daddy's richer than your daddy my daddy's smarter than your daddy my daddy's nicer than your daddy daddy brings locusts and lightning and thunder don't make daddy angry or lose protection your under daddy is everywhere

call him every day
he does all that i ask he makes storms go away i can't play with you anymore daddy says you don't know the score
